

Edwin Santana, Candidate for Congress Virginia 1st Congressional District

Edwin met his wife Heather Lynne on the first day of college at the Maine Maritime Academy. Both were stationed in Quantico, Virginia while at “The Basic School”, a tough course that prepares Marine Corps officers for leadership.

Both Edwin and his wife served as Ground Supply Officers, charged with the fiscal and physical accountability of all weapons and equipment, as well as the maintenance and execution of their unit’s budget.

Since leaving active duty, Edwin has been Project Lead on multiple federal contracts at an electrical engineering and construction company in Northern Virginia.

Edwin has always been active in his community. He has coached youth basketball, served as a Big Brother and was a Chaplain Assistant for Marine Recruits.

Edwin received his Bachelor’s Degree from the Maine Maritime Academy, where he also did ROTC training to become a Marine Officer.

Edwin wants to continue his public service as the next Member of Congress from Virginia’s 1st District – he believes we need stronger leadership to address the real issues our community is facing. From rising health costs, to the lack of job opportunities, to combating climate change, Edwin will continue to serve our country, as he has been his entire career.

Edwin lives in Stafford County with his wife Heather and their children, Eddy and Valerie.
